

Housing choices

Are you homeless?

All local authorities have a legal duty to give assistance to any household that:

- Is homeless
- Is eligible
- Has a priority need
- Is not intentionally homeless.

We will consider you to be homeless if:

- You have nowhere to live
- You have been living somewhere, but you have no legal right to stay there and have been told to leave
- You have somewhere to live, but someone else who lives there has been violent towards you, or is likely to be violent towards you
- You have somewhere to live, but nowhere for the people who normally live with you
- You have been made homeless as a result of an emergency, such as fire, flood or some other disaster.

We will consider you to be threatened with homelessness if you are likely to become homeless within the next 28 days.

This may be because:

- You have been taken to court by your landlord and the court has said you must leave
- You have been living with friends or relatives who have told you to leave.

Immigration controls and eligibility

Certain people are not 'eligible' for assistance under the homelessness legislation, because they do not usually live in the UK or are they subject to some form of immigration control. You are likely to be eligible for assistance if:

- You usually live in the UK and are not subject to any form of immigration control
- You usually live in the UK and are subject to immigration control, but your right to stay here is not subject to any time limit or conditions
- You have been given refugee status, or exceptional leave to remain here, as a result of an application for asylum.

You may be in priority need for accommodation if:

- You are 16 or 17 years old
- You are 18 to 20 years old and were looked after by a local authority, or fostered between the ages of 16 and 18
- You have dependent children who are under 16, or under 19 if they are in full time education, who live with you
- You, or any member of your household is pregnant
- You are at risk of violence
- You have been made homeless as a result of fire, flood or some other disaster
- You are vulnerable (see below).

You may be 'vulnerable' because:

- You are an older person (over 60 years old as a guide)
- You suffer from mental illness, disability, or physical illness (when homeless, the applicant would be less able to fend for themselves than another homeless person)
- You are at risk of domestic or other violence
- You have been in prison
- You have been a member of the regular armed forces - army, navy or air force.

Intentional homelessness

We may consider you to be intentionally homeless if you have become homeless as a result of something you have deliberately done, or failed to do. There are two areas we may consider.

The first area is:

- You have deliberately done something, or have failed to do something, and as a consequence you have lost or are likely to lose accommodation which was or is available
- It was reasonable for you to have continued to occupy the accommodation, and
- You were aware of all the facts before deliberately taking, or failing to take, the actions referred to above.

The second area is:

- You have entered into an arrangement under which you are required to cease to occupy the accommodation
- It must have been reasonable for you to have continued to occupy the accommodation
- The purpose of the arrangement is to enable you to become entitled to assistance under Part VII of the 1996 Housing Act, and
- There is no other good reason why you are homeless or threatened with homelessness.

We are likely to consider you unintentionally homeless

- It was not reasonable for you to stay in your last home
- You left home because of violence or fear of violence
- Your home was part of your job and you lost it through no fault of your own.

Each application is looked at individually.

Local connection:

When we look at your homelessness application, we also have to find out if you have a 'local connection' with North West Leicestershire District Council. If not, we have to establish if you have a 'local connection' with any other district in England, Scotland or Wales. Local authorities have agreed guidelines to help them decide whether you have a local connection with their district. You may have a local connection if:

- You have lived in the district for six out of the last 12 months, with the exception of interim or temporary accommodation provided to you by another local authority
- You have lived in the district for three out of the last five years, with the exception of interim or temporary accommodation provided to you by another local authority
- You have permanent employment in the district.
- You have a close family member who has lived in the district for the last five years (e.g. mother, father, sister, brother, son or daughter).

We may refer you to another council and ask them to assist you, if:

- You have no local connection with North West Leicestershire District Council, but do have a local connection with the other council
- You made a homeless application to another local authority in the last five years and were placed in the district by that local authority.

We have to make sure that the other council has agreed to assist you before sending you there. While these arrangements are being made, we have to consider whether to offer you interim accommodation while we are carrying out our investigations.

We will not force you to return to an area where you have experienced, or are likely to experience violence.
